Frisco-Eastern Illinois Deal—

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.—
NEW YORK, July 31.—Formal announcement of the reorganization of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company was made today in a circular letter, which was sent to all stockholders of record. With a few exceptions, the main details have already been published. The circular says in part:

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company of Iowa, hereby offers to purchase all the outstanding stock of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Company, certificates for which are now on the books for the sum of $2,000,000, to be deposited under the name of this offer with the Central Trust Company of this city. For each share of stock of said railway company of the par value of $100 to be deposited, to deliver $100 in its 4 per cent gold bonds of 2002; $70 in the preferred stock of the Rock Island Company of New Jersey and $100 in the common stock of the Rock Island Company of New Jersey.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company is a railroad corporation organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, with power to acquire the lines of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company. Its authorized capital stock is $12,000,000, 4 per cent, gold bonds known as Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company 4 per cent gold bonds of 2002.

The 4 per cent gold bonds of 2002 are limited to the aggregate face value of $75,000,000, and are to be secured under a trust agreement with the Central Trust Company of New Jersey, to be deposited and paid off of all shares of the capital stock of the present Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Company which may be acquired under the offer, or of any other stock that may be issued only to a face amount equal to the par value of the stock pledged under the trust agreement.

The bonds are payable November 1, and bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent from November 1, 1902, payable semi-annually on the first days of May and November, both principal and interest to be paid in the city of New York, and the trust company bonds for $1000 each, with the privilege of registration as to principal and registered bonds in the denominations of $1000 or multiples thereof. The common stock and registered bonds are interchangeable.

The Rock Island Company is a corporation organized under the law of the State of New Jersey. It has no assets or property, and its authorized capital stock is $150,000,000 in two classes, $50,000,000 of non-cumulative preferred stock and $100,000,000 of common stock.

The preferred stock is entitled to non-cumulative yearly dividends at the rate of 4 per cent for the year 1902, and for each and every year thereafter, including 1903, at the rate of 5 per cent, and thereafter, at the rate of 6 per cent, and for each and every year thereafter until and including the year 1916, and at the rate of 6 per cent, per annum thereafter. The preferred stock is also preferred as to assets. Holders of the stock are entitled to elect a majority of the directors, but such privilege may be surrendered with the consent of the holders of a majority in amount of the preferred stock. The amount of preferred stock cannot be increased save with the consent of two-thirds of each class of stock.

The Rock Island company has entered into agreements with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company of Iowa, under which, in consideration of delivery of its preferred stock, the capital stock of the Iowa company will, in turn, be held by the Rock Island company, so that through the stocks of the Rock Island company this offer of purchase in pursuance of this offer of purchase, the proportionate interest of stockholders of the present Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company in the railroad company and in their future earnings is preserved.

Accompanying the circular and under date of Chicago, July 31, is a resolution adopted by the board of directors accepting the acceptance of the reorganization plan of the Iowa company. The new company has organized with this list of directors:

R. R. Cable, Marshall Field, H. C. Price, William H. Moore, D. G. Reid, J. H. Moore, W. L. Ogden, Reid, George S. Brewster, Anson R. Flager, Francis L. Hins, George C. McMurry and George T. Boggs. This is the old board, reelected with Reid as an additional member. William H. Moore is made chairman of the Finance Executive Committee in which position it is said, he will practically supplant Cable as chairman of the board. Other members of the committee are Reid, Leeds, Reid, J. H. Moore and Hins. The directors elected Leeds president of the company, with Reid as secretary and treasurer, and Boggs as assistant to Reid.

No statement of any kind was issued regarding the financing of the reorganized corporation, but it was again declared that under the terms of exchange no considerable cash outlay would be required.

Trading in Rock Island shares was very light today, the total operations aggregating only 5100 shares, at a net loss of 26 points.

HE BROUGHT OUT MILLS.

McPartlin Retires to Good Advantage.

Looloos Win Despite Some Funny Ball.

Elks and the Salt Lake Fight. Mrs. Hall to Vindicate Fitz.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—Whales and McPartlin each had an inning today that they would like to forget. The Los Angeles twirler was the first to find out the real meaning of the word trouble, and he turned the definition over to the slim pitcher for the Pioniers in the next inning. McPartlin had the good fortune to see that Thursday was not his day but Jimmy stuck it out, and did very nicely for the rest of the game.

The retirement of McPartlin brought into prominence for the first time on the Pacific Coast, a slight youth of medium height, named Mills. He arrived Monday, and McPartlin preceded him to the games. McPartlin's first game was a two-hitter, and the game was a decided regulation as a two-hitter. To date he has jumped into the center of the diamond, and not only made batters respect him, but had the fans with him to a man by his clever work. Mills has a delivery which is puzzling in the extreme. It is impossible to compare him with any other pitcher working here, as his method is his own. Control is his strong point, and with it he works a "break" ball, which is the most startling curve seen here to date. In the fourth and fifth innings, he struck out Reilly, Whalen, Nordyke, Deemas and Parrott in succession. Mills's debut was certainly all kinds of fun.

The two bad innings of the game were a mixture of the sublime and the ridiculous in baseball. All known varieties of errors played a prominent part in the runs scored.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—Mrs. Hall, who now believes that she brought up the trouble upon Fitzsimmons by forcing him to tell the fortune-telling before the fight, yesterday bravely comes forward to vindicate him. Mayor Schmitz will invite Mrs. Hall to call upon him and explain the fortune-telling she did at Harbin Springs.

Fitzsimmons will tread the boards at the Central Theater August 12. He was engaged yesterday by Messrs. Beale and Thain to play "The Honest Blacksmith" for one week.

FITZ COMING.

SHOWS HERE NEXT WEEK.
Manager Tom McCarey of the Century Athletic Club turned out last night from San Francisco. He brings the news that Fitzsimmons will have a boxing exhibition here next Friday night with Hank Griffin. George Dawson, who is Fitzsimmons's trainer, will come with the party.

McCarey tried to arrange for a meeting between Jeffries and Fitz, but could not. Fitz wants to return to his home in the East, and Jeffries is planning for a hunting trip to the mountains. Consequently they were not particularly anxious to change their plans.

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—The Sacramento opened the series today by beating the Elks 11-2. Schmidt proved an easy mark.

Eagan hitting out the ball for four hits in his five times at bat. Casey's one-time at bat, however, had to do with the fact that he went into the air after hitting Lofman at third, was the feature of a game that was ripe with incidents.

The tail-enders played rings around the leaders at all stages of the game.

There was a good weekly attendance. Thomas held his opponents at bay, money after money, for two innings. Francis's work at short was great.

Roberts, a hotel butcher at the Van Nuys Hotel, is in the California Hospital with a gaping knife wound in his left side. Hugh R. Roberts, a baker at the same hotel, is severely gashed on the left forearm, and Lloyd Allcott, assistant steward, is in the City Jail, held to await the result of Evan Roberts' injuries.

The instrument that caused all the damage is a long, sharp bread knife. When it Allcott sliced around in the kitchen of the Van Nuys yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, the only apparent reason that the Roberts brothers were not cut more severely is that Allcott was running from them, and struck them by waving the knife blindly behind him as he ran.

Earlier in the evening, in the spirit of fun, as he says, Allcott, wrote Evan Roberts' name on an old white coat, which he had on, and one of the men in the hotel kitchen threw it down stairs. Butcher Roberts finally found it, and going upstairs from the basement, made inquiries as to who had written on it. Allcott admitted it, and with an oath went up to Allcott and wanted to know why in — he sent that old coat down to him. Allcott replied that it must have belonged to him, and that he had given it to him. Allcott led to further bad language, and Allcott says Evan Roberts hit him with his fist, and Allcott struck at him with his bread knife, which was in his hand.

The men were separated, but in a few moments Butcher Roberts returned with his brother, Hugh Roberts, and again assailed Allcott, who, in turn, the butler turned and ran through the hotel barroom to Fourth street, the Roberts brothers pursuing him and beating him on the back and head with their fists.

He was beaten behind him with the knife as he ran and when the fracas was finally stopped, it was found that Evan Roberts, the butcher, was stabbed in the back, and to the left of the naval, and had a slight gash on his left arm. His brother, Hugh Roberts, was gashed on both sides of the left forearm, and also had a slight cut on his cheek.

The wounds of both men were dressed at the Receiving Hospital, Hugh Roberts afterward going to his home. Evan Roberts is seriously injured. He has much blood from the cuts in the abdomen, and also bleed internally. He could give but the briefest account of the trouble owing to weakness from loss of blood. "We had some trouble over a coat," he called me a hard name, and I went for him." This is all he would say.

He was operated on at the California Hospital early this morning, and it was stated that at while in care he was in a fit of delirium, but he is now well. There is said to be a probability that he will not recover.

Allcott was charged at the City Prison with assault with a deadly weapon, and will be held pending results. He went to the Police Station and surrendered himself, saying he had acted in self-defense, and from investigation, police and the statements of the witnesses of the affair, this appears to have been the case. Allcott has been employed at the Van Nuys about six months, and resides at No. 1725 Santa Monica street. Evan M. Roberts has been the butcher at the hotel three years, and his brother, Hugh, has been a pastry cook there several months. Both live at No. 726 Towne avenue.

GOOD ROADS.

OBJECT-LESSON EXCURSION.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The Great Northern Railroad Company has placed at the disposal of the office of public road inquiry, Department of Agriculture, a railroad train for the purpose of transporting representatives of the office, engineers, road builders, and road machinery to be used in practical object lessons in road building. Road conventions will be held at the cities where the train will stop.

The train will leave Chicago, August 15, and will reach Minneapolis early in September, where demonstrations in road building will be given. The train will then continue westward to the Pacific, finally stopping at the principal cities en route, at each of which practical demonstrations in road building will be given.

The chief aim will be to show what can be found in the statistics of the various cities to be visited, illustrating practical road machinery, and the most approved methods of road construction.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.
ASSOCIATED PIPE LINE
A TO TAP MIDWAY FIELD.

CHANSLOR & CANFIELD SEEKING AN OUTLET.

MUCH INTEREST IN REPORTED CONSOLIDATION OF STANDARD AND OTHERS TO CENTRAL WORLD'S MARKET—LINE FOR BURSON ROAD BEING SURVEYED.

IF THE INFLUENCE OF CHANSLOR & CANFIELD OF LOS ANGELES CAN ACCOMPLISH IT, THE MIDWAY OIL FIELD WILL BE CONNECTED WITH THE INTERMOUNTAIN PIPE LINE TO BE BUILT TO THE COAST BY THE ASSOCIATED OIL COMPANY.

LITTLE BY LITTLE THE PLANS OF THOSE INTERESTED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE OIL RESOURCES OF THE KERN COUNTRY LEAK OUT, AND HOW IT IS STATED ON GOOD AUTHORITY, THE MIDWAY IS NOT TO BE OVERLOOKED BY THE COMBINE, BECAUSE CHANSLOR & CANFIELD HAVE DECLARED THAT MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION MUST BE SUPPLIED. THE LAYING OF A LINE TO MIDWAY, IT IS UNDERSTOOD, IS A FEATURE OF THE SCHEME dictated BY THE INTERESTS OF THAT FIRM WHICH CONCERN HOLDS THE HEDGING SHARE OF THE COMBINE'S STOCK. IT IS ALMOST INTERESTING TO SEE THE HAVING BEEN SPENT AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY IN THAT DISTRICT, AND IN THE TERRITORY BETWEEN IT AND MCKITTRICK. PORTIONS OF THIS TERRITORY HAVE BEEN PROVEN, BUT DEVELOPMENT HAS BEEN DELAYED, DUE TO THE REMOSENCE OF COST OF TRANSPORTATION. NOW THAT THE ASSOCIATED HAS DECIDED TO CONNECT THE KERN RIVER AND MCKITTRICK PIPE LINES WITH THE OCEAN, THE MIDWAY WILL ALSO BE PLACED ON THE TRANSPORTATION LINE.

IN ALL LIKELIHOOD THE PIPE LINE WILL BE AS FAR AS BAY CITY, CHANSLOR & CANFIELD'S POSSESSIONS, TERMINATING THERE PRACTICALLY. THE COUNTRY TO THE SOUTH, HOWEVER, IS NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN, AS IT IS, IF PLANS GO RIGHT, FOR IT IS THE INTENTION OF THE McDONALD ROAD TO SEND A FEELER INTO THAT TERRITORY. SIGHTS ARE ALMOST SELF-SUPPORTING, WHICH RANGE FROM $10 TO $100. THESE LINES ARE IMMEDIATELY MAGISTRATE, AND IT IS THE IDEA OF THE ASSOCIATED, IF POSSIBLE, PROPERTY, MAY BE TAKEN AS SECURITY, OTHERS AS SECURITY.

ELECTED R. B. HAYES.

DECISION BY SPEAKER RANDALL WHICH DECIDED HAYES-TILDEN CONTEST—STOPPED FILIBUSTERING—PLAN TO VOID THIS ELECTION BALLED BY HOUSE RULING ON A POINT OF ORDER.

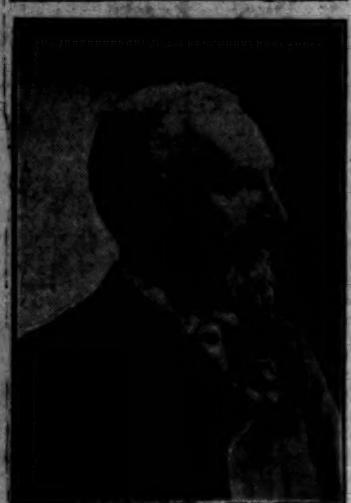

BY WILL M. SPRINGER.

LOOKING back after twenty-five years at the history of the famous Tilden-Hayes election controversy, it is possible to put one's finger on a line in the Congressional Record and say, here was the turning point. This is where the course of history was determined. This little decision of the Speaker of the House of Representatives is responsible for the Presidency of Rutherford B. Hayes and the count-out of Samuel J. Tilden.

SPEAKER ENDED FILIBUSTER.

The refusal of Speaker Samuel J. Randall to entertain a motion upon which I was insisting put an end to our filibuster. The filibuster, if continued, would have delayed the completion of the count. In four days Congress would have expired by constitutional limitation, and there would have been no election of President; in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution in such circumstances the Secretary of State, who was Hamilton Fish, would have become chief executive. The election would have been held in the following fall, when he would have been required to call another election. I have no doubt, however, that such a decision would have resulted in an overwhelming victory for Tilden, for the country believed he had been unfairly counted out.

As to what may have been the history of the country and the parties if events had taken the other course, it is idle, perhaps, to discuss. That they would have been vastly different will be admitted by all. The present measures and all current history would have been otherwise.

These were strenuous times. Day and night the House was sessioned, and so great was the crowd, it was almost impossible at times to preserve order. Fighting ran high, too, among the members, and it seemed on several occasions as if the House was about to blow. Senators Money and Blackburn were members of the House, and both were bitter and valiant fighters. I remember well the night when Sebe of New York, a man in his due, surrounded by a crowd of his colleagues, and shouted for recognition. Matters became acute; the end of the session was very near, and every hour was precious. No one knew what would be the outcome.

COMMITTEE ON THE ELECTION.

The election, it will be remembered, had taken place in November. Then in December Congress had come together and sought some method for legally canvassing the returns and determining the result. In order that the trouble might be adjusted with perfect fairness and that both parties should be equally represented it was agreed to appoint a committee, four to be made up of four Democrats and three Republicans from the House of Representatives and four Republicans and three Democrats from the Senate. This committee was to draw up a bill to cover the law which created the electoral commission. On the committee were Representatives of Ohio, Abraham S. Hewitt of New York, Spina Hunton of Virginia and William M. Springer of Illinois, Democrats; George F. Hoar, now senior Senator from Massachusetts; George C. Creary of Ohio, and Representative Willard of Michigan, Republicans; and Senators Conkling, Frelinghuysen, Morton and Edmunds. I believe the actual members of the committee are Edmunds, Hoar, Hewitt, Hunton and myself.

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION.

The law which Congress passed in accordance with the recommendation of this committee created a commission made up of five Senators, three and five Judges of the Supreme Court. This commission was empowered to canvass the electoral vote and report to both houses of Congress. Its findings were to be final unless overruled by both the Senate and House of Representatives.

The Senate, it will be remembered, was controlled by the Republicans and the House by the Democrats and the Democrats. The mere disapproval by the House would not reverse the findings of the commission, providing they were approved by the Senate.

In discussing the functions and powers of the electoral commission, and before the passage of the act, the House Democrats commented that the law should be in the hands of the commission to decide each contest on its merits. But Mr. Hoar objected to inserting such instructions in the body of the law, and the House voted to leave it to the discretion of the commission.

Mr. Brown of Kentucky: I object to this. The Speaker: The chair declines to entertain the motion.

Mr. Springer: But standing on my rights as a representative of the people I respectfully appeal from that decision of the chair.

A MOTHER SHAKE-UP IN SCHOLARSHIP SCORE.

LAST DAY OF THE MONTH WAS A REGULAR HUMMER.

Nearly All Contestants Register a Big Gain—Bessie Beatty Again in the Lead—Tremendous Leap Made by the "Pride of the Festlands," Miss Price.

A parliamentary ruling which was merely an arbitrary exercise of the power of his office. It was the evening of February 28. A motion had been made to proceed to the consideration of the report of the electoral commission. In the House of Representatives we were fighting every inch for delay. On page 2008 of the Congressional Record, second session, Forty-fourth Congress, vol. v., is a record of the debate.

The Speaker: The chair cannot entertain that motion.

Mr. Shealey: Business having intervened—

The Speaker: The chair cannot entertain the motion.

Mr. O'Brien: We are entitled under the law to make this motion.

Mr. Lawrence: I rise to a question which I suppose to be in order.

Mr. Springer: Do I understand the speaker to decline that the motion of the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Shealey) is not in order?

The Speaker: The chair declines to entertain the motion.

Mr. Waddell: I rise to a question of privilege.

The Speaker: Someone has taken away from the desk or borrowed for the moment the decision of the electoral commission. The chair requests that it be returned to the desk.

Mr. Springer: The chair has been taken to some remote part of the earth, whence it will not be brought back again.

Mr. Walling: And that the committee will have to go with it. [Laughter.]

The Speaker: The clerk will read the decision of the electoral commission.

The clerk commenced to read the decision.

SPRINGER'S POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. Springer: I rise to a question of order. I understand the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Shealey) made a motion that the House take a recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The Speaker: The gentleman understands also that the chair declined to entertain the motion.

Mr. Springer: I rise to a question of order. I understand the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Shealey) made a motion which is provided for by the parliamentary rules of the House.

The Speaker: The chair declines—

Mr. Springer: If the chair will pardon me, I wish to say, it is the duty of the chair to entertain any motion which may be made in a parliamentary form. It is the privilege of the chair to decide it out of order, and upon that decision the House may take an appeal.

The Speaker: The chair declines to entertain the appeal to this matter. The chair was not bound, in fact to entertain the appeal as made by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Shealey), and could have called former decisions to sustain him in that position, notably the decision made by the then speaker in 1868, when the occupant of the chair at that time appealed to the decision to entertain the appeal of the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Shealey) to the extent of one point of order, and upon that decision the House may take an appeal.

MEN'S DISEASES.

Dr. O. C. JOSLEN,
Strictly Reliable.Expect
A Cure.

When I have accepted your case for treatment you may look forward to a complete and permanent cure, and with the very first treatment the cure will begin. The pretty definite basis upon which is commonly regarded as an uncertain and speculative matter. But I am in position to speak definitely and positively. With me the cure of men's diseases is not uncertain or speculative at all. I know what I can do, and what I cannot do, and I never promise or attempt too much. I accept no case in which I have doubt as to my ability to cure, and results are always equal to the claims I make.

Consultation Free.

I charge nothing for consultation or advice, either at my office or by mail. Instructive colored chart mailed free to those who write.

"WEAKNESS"

To produce temporary activity of the functions in cases of generalized weakness is a simple task, but to permanently restore strength and vigor is a problem that but few physicians have solved. I never tried for permanent effects. Under my system of treatment, every bit of improvement is a part of a permanent cure. Then the physician has, through his success in effecting permanent cures, been convinced of the value of his services—loss of power, etc., are but symptoms resulting from chronic inflammation or degeneration, but they can now be yet best able to duplicate my cure. My system of local treatment is the best, but it is not yet known for restoring the prostate to its normal state, which always remains in full and complete repose, strength and vigor. A cure is absolutely permanent, because the original disorder is entirely removed. It is the only kind of a cure a patient can have, and the only kind of cure I will treat for.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS

The importance of quickly curing contracted disorders is being more generally recognized among the medical profession. The tendency of these disorders is to gradually increase and involve in the chronic inflammation the most vital centers of the organs.

The serious results that may follow could easily be exaggerated. Safety can be maintained by timely treatment in the least possible time. I have treated most cases of contracted disorders than other physician upon the Pacific Coast.

and have accomplished in less time than other forms of treatment.

In the treatment of contracted disorders, I employ remedies of my own devising and my treatment is equally effective in both recent and chronic

VARICOCELE

A thorough cure without pain or cutting. Every case of varicocele is treated with the Joslen's special oil and harness method, and the folly of resorting to surgery. In most instances the patient a single day from his treatment. The treatment I employ is distinctly my own, and can be had for a nominal outlay. A visit to the knife and hospital expenses, when a complete and permanent cure can be had in a few moments of time, and without pain or cutting.

Treatment Free.

I charge nothing for consultation or advice, either at my office or by mail. Instructive colored chart mailed free to those who write.

People of Los Alamos Driven in Terror from Their Homes and Destruction Wrought.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LOS ALAMOS, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As if the shocks of Sunday night and last night were not enough to drive into a state of terror the people of this little town, there was another at 1:30 o'clock this morning, even more severe than any of the previous disturbances. It completed what destruction had been left unfinished by the twisting of the earth at 1:30 o'clock this morning, when houses were thrown off their foundations, walls toppled and buildings demolished.

Throughout the day there have been tremblings of the earth almost without intermission, with now and then a heavier one. The people were therefore prepared for the worst tonight, when there was a repetition of the terrifying dizzying motion of the day, which had been accompanied by a rain. Now a house in the town was occupied at the time this shock came. The people had taken the counsel of the scientists at the observatory, who advised them not to return to their houses to sleep, for the reason that other and perhaps heavier shocks might be expected.

The people prepared their meals in the streets, moved their beds into open spaces, building such shelters as they could with the means at hand. From time to time the earth would be feeling plaster in a slight tremor, causing the loosened pieces to come down. On the whole the town is in an alarming condition.

Tonight's shock was like those which preceded it. It could be heard throughout the town. In distance it was what seemed like the rumbling of thunder, which increased in volume until, with a deep roar, the earth began twisting. It continued for less than four seconds, then ceased suddenly. A few minutes later there were two distinct shocks, but not nearly so severe.

At 11 o'clock tonight the town people are living in the open air. Many have left their houses, having wrapped in blankets and coverlets they are sleeping under almost every tree, or are trying to sleep there.

There was a tremor this afternoon that fire was seen issuing from one of the mountains. The hotel building suffered less than any other, reporting but a few dollars' damage to glassware.

There is not a chimney left standing in town. The Nick Foxen residence was damaged by the shock, and moved two inches and split in opposite corners.

Not a building escaped some injury, and it was considered miraculous that no one was hurt. The local telephone line is down, and several trees have been uprooted.

The Los Alamos Creek is still flowing a large stream, which started with the first shock. Some houses have been washed away.

There was a series of lighter vibrations during the day, in fact, disturbance was continuous with intermissions sometimes of a few minutes, and some times of hours. A report was made that smoke was rising from the mountains near Zaca Lake, but this proved unfounded.

People rushed from their homes,惊慌失措. It was no time to think of climbing trees, but to run for safety. The shock was over quickly, and before most of them could leave their rooms. Not a person was injured. After such an experience sleep was impossible. Many went to the houses of their wives and children, and all spent the early morning on the streets. Many families left today, some going to Santa Barbara, but the greater number went north. Many are preparing to leave tomorrow, tonight's severe shock having convinced them that there is danger ahead.

They have been received to-night of damage at other points by the latest shock, but it was felt from San Luis Obispo to below Santa Barbara.

WORST EVER FELT.

SANTA BARBARA REPORT.
(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

SANTA BARBARA, July 31.—The earthquake this morning at 1:30 o'clock, with Los Alamos as the center, was the worst ever felt in this county and one of the worst ever experienced in the State. The town of Los Alamos is a scene of desolation today. The first shock that occurred on Sunday night sadly delayed the people, and did a great deal of damage, especially to the oil wells of the Western Union Oil Company, located a few miles east of the town, but this morning's shock ruined town and many of the ranch houses, cutting off roads and communication paths among the inhabitants.

The seismic movement was rotary, pulling into the center of rooms furniture of every description, or the various parts of a house. In the room of Mr. Leslie's residence the household effects were piled up ten feet high.

Not a brick chimney remains in the town, and a number of buildings are totally destroyed, among them the Presbyterian Church. This building, rear portion is moved four inches from the foundation, the front wall fell, and the brick roof was broken.

Numerous small buildings are removed from their foundations, and are much damaged.

The only place of scientific advice reached by telephone from Los Alamos this morning was the State University of California.

"While scientists are working on the theory of the probable cause of the earthquakes in Santa Barbara county, the exact reason will probably never be known. The most evident is a slip in the strata of the earth. In such cases a slight displacement sometimes produces a fearful shock. The theory has been advanced that the removal of great quantities of oil from the earth causes a tremor, and produces a jolting effect of varying intensity."

James Maddrell, who has charge of the observatory of the University of California this summer, said:

"From unofficial sources we have learned that the southern earthquakes were, practically, the same as those on the continent, and liable to have such shocks as these."

Any great contraction of the earth on the Pacific Coast may be accompanied by damage to property. It is a well-known scientific fact that as the earth cools the interior of the earth crust contracts, and the surface is drawn together.

NOTES AFIELD.

Wonderful Flower.

THE secretary of the Chamber of Commerce had the forethought to photograph a unique and beautiful flower this week, the bloom of the Cycas revoluta, or sago palm, growing on the Browne's side of the Courtland grounds. This strange production is the staminate flower of one of our most beautiful exotic palms. It rarely comes to perfection among cultivated specimens of the plant. Two years ago the female palm of the same variety bloomed in perfection, and the flower attracted great attention with its naked ovules borne in the axils of the fuzzy leaflets in the bloom. Lovers of fine plant specimens will hope that the photographer secured a good picture of this rare and beautiful flower.

Walnut Disease Abating.

An examination of the walnut groves at Fullerton and at several points in Los Angeles county show a decidedly better condition of crops than was in evidence last year. As no satisfactory remedy has been found for walnut blight, it is encouraging to know that the disease is an susceptible to climatic conditions as other bacterial diseases.

Security does not lie in this fact for two reasons, but it demonstrates that our walnut groves are not to be ravaged by disease without remedy or amelioration. Meers, Grace and Duffill think that 10 per cent. is the maximum of damages noted in their experience this season. Last year it reached an alarming point in many localities.

Caw on Scutellaria.

The colony of African parasites of the black scale recently liberated upon the olive grove of W. E. Hughes at Howard's Ranch, in the San Joaquin, and the outlook is good for the establishment of this fly in Southern California. The wise orchardist will not attempt to hold his breath till this new insect gets in and eliminates the black scale. Mr. Caw thinks it may prove effective, as its record in South Africa seems to be better than most of the alleged scale eaters enjoy in their nativity. The new fly will be watched with unbounded interest, and with more hope than most imported parasites are entitled to.

Red Spider Literature.

It is safe to say that more valuable literature will be put forth concerning the red spider this fall than has been given out altogether in all the past years. The report units in the statement that this terrible pest is resting entirely at the present time. In fact, specimens are so rare that Inspector Voelck has been obliged to breed the spider for a continuation of its study. The insect will return in the spring, however, in another time, and it is hoped the experiments and studies may prepare the fruit growers with better methods of resistance to the attacks of this microscopic fly to the citrus fruit. Fruit growers will await with interest the publication of the coming bulletin upon the red spider.

Cornell on Moth-traps.

The denouncing of the so-called moth trap has been general throughout the West, and thousands of dollars saved to wise readers thereby. In addition to press warnings the University of Cornell has issued a large bulletin giving the results of experiments at the station. The report finds that these traps will not capture any moth, and that a large number of beneficial insects may be caught and killed.

Unscrupulous and persistent advertising thousands of these so-called moth traps have been sold to farmers during the past two or three years. They are frauds. Avoid them altogether.

Thistle in Orange County.

So virulent has become the attack of the Russian thistle pest in Orange county that the farmers are asking for legislation to assist in its suppression. The State Legislature has agreed to, to assist through legislation similar to that adopted by the officials of Los Angeles county. There is no use in disguising the fact that general alarm prevails wherever this vicious weed has obtained a foothold. Unaccustomed to lying down before menace of this character, the farmers of Southern California do not propose to remain passive in the face of this grave danger, and the consequences that have come over Dakota, Colorado and other States of the Middle West. There will always remain, however, enough of indifferent land holder to require something stronger than moral suasion, and hence the necessity of ordinances to govern the indifferent cases.

Loss of Fruit.

The statement that 100 tons of apples have perished in commercial value from lack of help in cutting and drying is alarming, if true. I presume it is true, for trouble has occurred from this cause in various portions of the State. The deciduous-fruit farmers trust too much to chance in securing help. They should organize in each locality, appoint a competent man to register the names of every man, woman and child in the neighborhood who would be ready to work in the fruit. From this list the shortage of help could be estimated and plans made for securing outside help in time to save the crops. Farmers are generally averse to the employment of Chinamen or Japanese, but with the shortage clearly understood the cities could be drawn upon for white help from the poorer classes, which really need the work and would prove successful workmen. It is a wonder more material losses do not ensue where the employment of fruit harvesters is done in such unsystematic ways. Outside help may always be secured, if the attempt is made in time.

Parks A-field.

One of the hopeful signs of the times from the point of view of landscape scenery is the appearance of parks in the suburban towns of this portion of the State. Not only will they individualize and improve local surroundings, but they will stimulate park building in the metropolis as well. Pasadena is leading in this movement. The commission in charge of the new parks has offered a prize of $400 for the best plan of improving the two five-acre tracts in the heart of the city to be devoted to park purposes. Other cash prizes are to be paid as second and third premiums for landscape designs. Competition will be lively indeed, and will draw from the pockets of the eastern cities. Our home town is awake, also, and should have no trouble in capturing the first prize.

Ten acres seems rather small for parks in a city of Pasadena's beauty and reputation. But the land is in the heart of the city, where the acres count for a hundred located in a distant portion of the municipality. The northern five is located just below the steps just north of Green Hotel, the other tract lying just below the Santa Fe depot. Pasadena's first park will prove a success for its promoters are not afraid to offer a few hundred dollars in payment for expert services in planning original and adaptive designs.

Lactuca Scariola.

In answer to Benjamin Walton concerning a new noxious weed that is spreading rapidly upon the lands of the southeastern portion of the county, the specimens sent in are "wild lettuce," a plant allied to the common sow thistle. It is a very serious pest. That Southern California may become the harbor for all the pests, vegetables and animal, that afflict the agricultural may be inferred from the local history of this pest. Ernest Brainerd, of the University, says that it was introduced into our country five years ago. One was at Pasadena, and the other near University station. It has since overrun large tracts in this portion of the State, and become a serious pest indeed.

Fortunately, the roots of this plant will not send up sprouts, and the weed may be easily destroyed by cutting below the crown. From the experience of the past two years it would seem that we will have to have a new policy of dealing with weed pests. There is no state law covering the treatment of noxious plants, but the deficiency is in part overcome by the willingness of Supervisors to enact ordinances dealing with cases of serious weed infestation.

Scarcity of Stock.

A local landscape gardener, who is not interested in nursery stock says there will be a deficiency of 75 per cent. in the quantity of ornamental plants and trees in the market. The scarcity of plants is due to the phenomenal increase of householders in Los Angeles city and in the suburban towns, and to the fact that a large number of farmers have reached the point where they can afford to ornament their grounds as they should be. If this state of affairs is as represented, it will necessitate a large importation of ornamentals, and the demand made by the building of so many new homes. People must learn that small, vigorous plants are preferable to the tall, root-bound, starved stock offered in pots by so many nurseries. An example of the progress of small, healthy plants is seen in the newly-ornamented grounds at the Soldiers' Home. Perhaps necessity will this season prevail upon the operators to put out small stock.

Too the old hide-bound specimens so often foisted upon customers, to remain dormant for years. I can refer you to a row of magnolia trees that have been planted three years, given the best care, and yet have not made the first start toward the making of pretty trees.

The Theory of Gum Disease.

A leading orange grower whose ideas are always abreast of the times has a new theory upon the origin of the gum disease. He says the nurserymen are largely to blame for the spread of the destructive malady. They select diseased culms and poor fruit generally from contaminated trees and thus the disease is perpetuated in the young stock, appearing later in the orchards in disease form. If this theory is true, the remedy lies in the use of seeds selected from absolutely healthy trees. This will bring us again to the Florida stock-fad, and there is some reason for its revival.

One nurseryman has evidently anticipated the demand for trees budded upon Florida stock, and has spent nearly a year among the seedlings of Florida, collecting seeds for propagation. He has chosen seeds in one of the largest seed beds in the South. He says in all his journeys in the South he failed to find evidence of disease among the wild orange trees. There is much mystery about vegetable bacterial diseases, and the subject should have more scientific study in its relation to citrus fruits than has yet been given. The theory of the origin of the gum disease in certain localities of Southern California, or more alarm would be felt over the ravages of this mysterious malady. On general principles, nothing but pure seed should be selected from typical trees.

The Rhizobius Increasing.

I was astonished to find this black scale parasite increasing so rapidly along the foothills. While visiting Monrovia last Monday in company with Alexander Caw and a party of horticultural officials, I was shown a bunch of pepper trees in which the Rhizobius was found in large quantities. These ladybirds were doing any service, as the trees contained all the scale they could possibly hold in all stages of development. Further investigations were made in the orange groves of John Scott at Duarte. The Rhizobius was found there in lesser numbers, apparently having no effect upon the scale. This is not the first time the grower has been deceived as to the efficiency of this parasite, and the probabilities are that disappointment will follow as usual. There seems to be no justification for the rosee view taken by the horticultural optimist of the foothill regions.

Mr. Scott has decided to give a portion of his orchard undisturbed to the use of the Rhizobius, restraining from spraying or spraying the trees on which the ladybirds are established. While he is very hopeful of satisfactory results, he says no one in Duarte will abandon fumigation until the work is done at the place of consumption.

San Diego Sun.

parasite has either been successful or failed at all. The grower should take notice of this last statement, and not relinquish the use of the ordinary means of disinfection. Should the idea prevail that there is something new in this line, much harm to the coming crop would be the result. We are no doubt in for the renewal of experience of former years with this alleged parasite. Rhizobius should have free rein and encouragement all along the line, but that should be secured by the action of a few trial orchards, or a few rows of pepper trees from which to draw conclusions.

Only Two Lives.

The uncertainties of life are well illustrated in Prof. Marlatt's experience with the Chinese ladybirds, which he imported after a quest of many months in the most inaccessible portions of China. Mr. Marlatt returned to the United States and to Washington last fall, bringing with him 150 of these "ladybugs" in a bamboo cage. All died except two, which, similarly enough, had lived through winter in a little glass cage in Mr. Marlatt's office. They were survivors, and as such were best adapted to this climate and country. This spring they laid eggs and hatched out 200 young ones, which are now full grown and healthy and getting ready to bring up the next generation.

These bugs are being distributed among the Maryland peach orchards, and it is hoped they will soon wipe out the tribe of the San Jose scale, which is already exterminated in many of the trees on the department grounds, and when they in turn bring forth broods the division will have enough to begin sending them over the United States fruit-raising districts where the scale insect is playing havoc.

These bugs are being distributed among the Maryland peach orchards, and it is hoped they will soon wipe out the tribe of the San Jose scale.

Concerning Typhoid Germs.

Dairymen and more especially the operators of dairy products will be interested in the following statement of the fact that typhoid contaminated with the water consumed by milk cows will not pass into the milk even when the water is mixed with pure typhoid bacilli.

The results obtained by scientific investigation in this line are gratifying and seem to be conclusive. They show that in assimilating the water the cows will not allow the typhoid bacilli to pass into the milk even when the water is mixed with pure typhoid bacilli.

Keep ducks on a good ration, let them have all kinds of either, and eggs, good fowl eggs, will do much to remove blood. His experiments have been in favor of Tamworth sows, and still higher Tamworth crosses.—Thomas Shaw.

A Mild Criticism.

Can any farmer tell why he should pay taxes to support both the State Board of Horticulture and an entomological department in the university? The State Board of Horticulture once informed a member of the university that he did not need to pay taxes to the university, as he was not a member of the university.

The Rouen.

The Rouen will average about eighty eggs per year.

The Indian runner is the Leghorn of duck aley, laying from 140 to 190 eggs per year.

The gray call duck are used for call ducking down to places where the common fowl are not used.

The crested white averages from 90 to 110 eggs per annum.

The Cayuga.

The Cayuga is extremely hardy, producing eighty to ninety eggs in the spring, and laying again in the autumn.

The Muscovy are a very eccentric duck, laying in spring and fall, and the eggs are not much used.

At this time Prof. Shaw was asked if it were not some such mixing of blood—especially the German, with some of the older American families—that was greatly responsible for much of the present day trouble among the American people. "Exactly so," replied the professor. Then he proceeded to say that he did not advocate continual crossing on pure breeds, since registered animals should be considered too valuable for such use. He next remarked upon the theory of his predecessor at the Minnesota station, Prof. McClean, who advocated the use of Poland-Chincos on Tamworth sows. Prof. Shaw said that he disagreed with this, as he did not believe that Tamworth sows were as good as the German.

He next remarked upon the theory of his predecessor at the Minnesota station, Prof. McClean, who advocated the use of Poland-Chincos on Tamworth sows. Prof. Shaw said that he disagreed with this, as he did not believe that Tamworth sows were as good as the German.

Keep ducks on a good ration, let them have all kinds of either, and eggs, good fowl eggs, will do much to remove blood. His experiments have been in favor of Tamworth sows, and still higher Tamworth crosses.—Thomas Shaw.

The Rouen.

The Rouen will average about eighty eggs per year.

The Indian runner is the Leghorn of duck aley, laying from 140 to 190 eggs per year.

The gray call duck are used for call ducking down to places where the common fowl are not used.

The crested white averages from 90 to 110 eggs per annum.

The Cayuga.

The Cayuga is extremely hardy, producing eighty to ninety eggs in the spring, and laying again in the autumn.

The Muscovy are a very eccentric duck, laying in spring and fall, and the eggs are not much used.

At this time Prof. Shaw was asked if it were not some such mixing of blood—especially the German, with some of the older American families—that was greatly responsible for much of the present day trouble among the American people. "Exactly so," replied the professor. Then he proceeded to say that he did not advocate continual crossing on pure breeds, since registered animals should be considered too valuable for such use. HARD FOR BUSINESS. The safety-deposit vaults of the Los Angeles National Bank, which for some time have been in process of construction, are now complete, and that department is ready for business. The new vaults combine every element of safety which modern ingenuity has been able to devise. When such vaults security as a modern safe, it will be a moderate cost, it is almost impossible for people to have their valies lying around loose, where they are exposed to the weak, and subject the owners to danger of loss by South Americans.

DEBT OF BANKING. The Secretary of the Treasury has held a conference with J. H. Bill, recently elected national banks to furnish statements of their average loans for a year, net cost of operation, with all expenses of labor, rent, and taxes, as observed are substantially as follows: Banks with a capital of $600,000 over number 264. Of these 19 have reported, showing a cost of operation $16,640, and average net cost of $137,400,355, thus showing an average cost of 1.23 per cent. Banks $100,000 capital and less than $200,000 over 1274, of which 559 have reported. These banks show a cost of $48,454, an average amount of $213,678,415, or a percentage cost of 2.22 per cent. Banks with a capital of $25,000 number 509; 30 have reported, showing a cost of operation $10,000, and a percentage cost of $16,715, or a percentage cost of 2.2 per cent.—Bradstreet's.

leaving only yesterday for Barstow, on his way back to San Francisco.
He was thrown from the train while trying to board it. His head was crushed and one leg cut off by the wheels. He was about 50 years old and unmarried.Another report is to the effect that Warren was run down by a switch locomotive or car while in the act of putting a pet dog into the baggage car.
The dog had been Warren's constant companion here for years, and when he left yesterday his attention was directed to the care of the animal which,
if the report of the accident be true, caused his death.

will, deeding what little property she possessed at the time of her death to Mrs. Mary McCullum, a nice living and all this afternoon when he was

Several Southern Pacific officials were here today in consultation with the Supervisors, and a plan to change the company's present right of way of E street to a newly-acquired right of way, due north from the Lytle Creek bridge to the motor station. Only two property owners are holding out, and that difference is the railroad company.
They are to settle with the company

complete right of way over the desired route extensive improvements will follow at this end of the line.

Valuable collection of pictures. Secure the story of the greatest disaster story my wife brought home from San Francisco yesterday. She has been visiting a married sister up there the past month, and last week the man of the house picked up a man in his 70s. But he ate too much watermelon, or something else that disagreed with his digestion, and at 9 o'clock, bled to death. The man died in a series of acute attacks of cholera morbus. Hot drinks and mustard poultices were measured out to him by the yard, but without avail, and at 10 o'clock the man died. The doctor, who had been ringing up physicians' residences, "out for the evening." Not at home, and replies of similar import were received in each instance. Despite the protest of a woman physician who called in for the physician between 12 and 2 o'clock, the man died. Dr. Dr. rights stopped at my brother-in-law's door. And from a few remarks exchanged by those who arrived about the same time, my wife, who overheard them, surmised that they were all at the bloodbath.

"Yes," laughed a pretty girl, who wore four college pins, and several fraternal emblems, and who looked as if she might be a member of the Alpha Delta Pi. "I'm here for you always myself." But just then the "joker" commenced to run again, and in the homeward rush the remainder of these valuable reminiscences were lost to the world.

PASADENA "FISH" HOWLS FOR GAGE.

PUBLIC MEETING FOLLOWS BAND ON THE STREET.

"Truth About the Governor" Wouldn't Out—Large Funeral of Bent. Boy Accidentally Shot—Man Who Thinks Tracy Held Him Up.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 2 South Raymond avenue, Aug. 1.—The Gage forces gave a public meeting last night in Woodman Hall, which was attended by a few well-known citizens, and a big bunch of fellows who were attracted by the band that previous to the meeting, had cut the meeters corners, and during the meeting livened things up periodically.

President Eps Randolph of the Pacific Electric Company says that the Gage Club, presided, to call the assemblage to order, and expressed his "appreciation at seeing so many influential and representative faces assembled." That may have been joke, but it pleased without appearance the president, who was received as a citizen of the Incumbent Governor in this fast company. The very audacity of the thing brought down the house.

"And I now nominate for president of the evening Hon. Mr. Horace M. Dobbin," said Magee, and Dobbins, the president of the American Club, who, with Magee and the speaker of the evening, W. J. McKinley, had been occupying the platform, stepped forward and said: "The audience, the honor also the chairman for not giving the "now" a chance, for Magee had quit at saying: "All those in favor say."

Dobbins read the following list of vice-presidents of the evening, and invited them to seats "up forward": B. C. Goettl, Mr. Nelson, A. W. Conner, A. R. D. Smith, William Prince, J. P. Baumgartner, F. H. Heydenreich, W. A. Heiss, J. G. Rosister, J. A. Buchanan, E. O. Kendall, G. A. Gibbs, W. S. Wright, C. W. Smith, S. Carr, C. C. Brown, George A. Durrell, M. D. Painter, Fred E. Twombly, McGowen, James Clark, H. H. Klamroth, Thomas Early, A. R. Metcal, Mathew Slavin, William Carnes, J. S. Cox, W. H. Campbell, J. H. Holmes, E. C. Bailey, C. M. Simpson, Z. Decker, C. E. Emery.

Some of those who were present responded: W. S. Wright, G. A. Gibbs, J. P. Nelson and John McDonald taking seats on the platform.

J. W. McKinley was introduced, and the audience looked expectant, because the meeting had been advertised to set forth the "truth about the Governor." Mr. McKinley had said by telephone that he always was to come to the city in eloquent and friendly language, but it hadn't anything to do with Gage.

He dwelt deliberately upon the loss to the country of one great President, and how his place had been filled by another President. It was well said—but nothing about the gubernatorial head of the State.

Mr. McKinley told a cute little story about the "knockers" tree that is supposed to exist in California and be fed by the press. It was a well-told story, very funny—but it threw no light on the inner life of the statesman from Downey.

At length the speaker said that though some of Gage's appointments were not just what they should have been, it is not possible to tell what sort of an officer a man will make until he has been tried. It looked like the "truth about Gage," but here McKinley threw a curve that completely nonplussed the batter. "Gage has been tried and he's fit," said he.

Perhaps he meant the past part of "fit."

W. S. Wright and J. P. Baumgartner made short addresses. But there was very little detail as to the "truth about Gage," and the audience went away feeling that it must be something.

There was an unfortunate termination of the mountain trip which Los Angeles boy took the other day. Morgan had a revolver holstered up with the rest of his gun, and his gun wouldn't fit in the holster. The bullet was stuck on the strap of the holster. A .30-caliber bullet entered the body of Morgan's leg, inflicting a slight laceration and a slight loss of blood. The bullet was removed by a number of the spectators.

PLenty of FISH IN AVALON WATERS.

GREATEST RUN OF YELLOWTAIL DURING THE SEASON.

Number Caught So Large That Racks on the Beach Wouldn't Hold All—Many Private Yachts Visit the Island.

AVALON, July 31.—The fishing was simply "out of sight" today. The beachmen's racks were not large enough to hold the fish, and they were piled around in all sorts of places. It was the greatest run of yellowtail of the year, and there was sport for everybody. In fact the run began yesterday, and it was not confined to getting out all sorts of fish have been billeted firmly, but the big schools of yellowtail, however, the largest things interesting for the anglers.

As far back as last Sunday immense schools of yellowtail were reported in the vicinity of Sphinx Rock, and every day they have moved up this way, passing Seal Rock, and yesterday the advance guard of the school of yellowtail, which had been billeted firmly, however, the largest things interesting for the anglers.

Col. J. E. Stearns will hardly be able to put his finger at Mr. Fox, as he comes to pay his respects to the sea bass. He reported last evening that he had a record of 160 pounds.
